

Privacy Notice

This website is operated by Digital Alert Systems, Inc.

We are committed to protecting the privacy of visitors, customers, and partners. This website is designed to minimize the collection of personal information and does not use advertising networks, behavioral profiling, cross-site tracking technologies, or third-party marketing analytics services.

Information Collection

Visitors may browse the public sections of this website without providing personal information. Personal or business contact information may be provided voluntarily in connection with:

- Product registration
- Access to licensed software or downloads
- Technical support or customer service
- Licensing, maintenance, or subscription services

Information submitted through these processes is used solely for legitimate business purposes related to the requested products and services.

Cookies and Technical Data

This website uses only essential session cookies required for secure website operation and authenticated access to restricted resources. These cookies are not used for advertising, behavioral analysis, or cross-site tracking.

Like most internet services, standard technical information, such as IP addresses, browser type, and server access logs, may be temporarily processed by website infrastructure and hosting systems for security, operational integrity, troubleshooting, and fraud prevention.

Information Sharing

We do not sell, rent, trade, or disclose personal information to third parties for marketing purposes.

Information may be disclosed only:

- As required by applicable law or legal process
- To protect the security, integrity, or operation of our systems and services
- To authorized service providers acting on our behalf under appropriate confidentiality and security obligations

Data Protection

Reasonable administrative, technical, and organizational safeguards are in place to protect information from unauthorized access, disclosure, alteration, or destruction.

Information submitted through this website may be stored or processed in the United States.
